Interest Cover Ratios (ICR) and Stress Rates

To reflect the different taxable income levels of landlords, we apply the following Interest Cover Ratios (ICR) and Stress Rates:

ICR
Buy to Let (BTL) and Let to Buy (LTB)		Houses of Multiple Occupation (HMO)	Limited Company Buy to Let
Tax Rate of 20% or less	Tax Rate of 40% or more
125%	160%	175%	125%

BTL, LTB, Large Portfolio and HMO applications	Term	Loan to Value (LTV)	Stress rate (we'll always use which ever is higher)
Like for like remortgage	All fixed	65% LTV or lower	4.00% or pay rate
		Higher than 65% LTV	4.50% or pay rate
Purchase, Remortgage with capital raising or further advance	1 and 2 year fixed	All LTVs	5.50% or pay rate +2.00%
	5 year fixed	65% LTV or lower	4.00% or pay rate
		Higher than 65% LTV	4.50% or pay rate

Tracker and variable products have a stress of 5.50% or pay rate +2.00%. We'll always use whichever is higher

Limited Company BTL and HMO applications	Term	Loan to Value (LTV)	Stress rate (we'll always use which ever is higher)
Like for like remortgage	All fixed	All LTVs	4.50% or pay rate
Purchase, Remortgage with capital raising or further advance	1 and 2 year fixed	All LTVs	5.50% or pay rate +2.00%
	5 year fixed	All LTVs	4.50% or pay rate

When calculating the maximum borrowing, this will include any product fees you want to add to the loan. If the product fee is being added to the loan, this can exceed the maximum LTV. But it can't exceed the maximum loan amount.
For further advances individual loan elements will be stressed separately in line with the above. However, the stress rate applied to existing lending will also be set to a minimum of the stress rate applicable to the new borrowing. Please download our further advance calculator for support calculating potential further borrowing.
For portfolio landlord applications, an aggregate rental calculation applies (please refer to the lending criteria section of the TMW website for details)
